DETAILS:

- Good Sports, a Boston-based non-profit organization, aims to increase youth participation in sports by donating equipment to community organizations serving disadvantaged youth.
- In an effort to raise money for Good Sports, Adalius Thomas auctioned off a NERF® football game at their annual Legends of the Ball event last year.
- Money raised at the auction enables Good Sports to provide necessary sports equipment, footwear, and apparel to those who need it most.
- Since his arrival to the Patriots, Thomas has been an active youth sports and education supporter. In September of 2008, Thomas visited the Holland Community Center in Dorchester and gave out 200 backpacks full of school supplies. He has generously donated his time to help serve hundreds of kids in need.
- Boston's own Sausage Guy has also donated his catering services for the event. The Sausage Guy has been a long time supporter of Good Sports: catering many events over the past four years to help their cause.
